

from your Executive Director

By Bryan E. Smith

TOI Executive Director

DID YOU EVER THINK ABOUT how much you owe your parents? They literally gave you life. Without them, you wouldn't be here. Try as you may, I'm not sure you can ever repay your parents for this valuable gift.

In addition to giving you life, they then formed you into the person you are today. By scolding you when you were bad, praising you when you were good, and using a spanking when you wouldn't listen to reason. Your parents took care of you when you weren't capable of taking care of yourself, and as you grew older allowed you to gradually make your own decisions. Again, I'm not sure a child can ever repay their parents for all the many things they've done and sacrifices they've made.

As your parents grow older, little by little they pass the torch to the new generation created by them. My father was a Township Clerk and I learned a great deal from him. Being a township official was something of which he was very proud. He began in township government in 1961 back in the day when there were "Assistant Township Supervisors" elected. They served on the County Board and he could talk for hours about the "old days." In a unique twist, my Dad became a township clerk shortly after I had served several years as Clerk. He was extremely proud of his township and the role he played in it.

My father was also proud of the fact that he was a Democrat. He was a dedicated Democrat as ever lived in Macon County, supporting his party with his labor and his checkbook. He didn't allow his political leanings to interfere with his job, when someone needed something, he just did it. My father was a people person, he liked meeting and talking to people, and he enjoyed helping them.

This month, From your Executive Director is dedicated to my father, R.C. Smith, Township Clerk of Long Creek Township. Born January 28, 1934 died September 2, 2019.

R.C. (Richard Carol) Smith, was born January 28,
